Improvement Club After Big Things

Rev. John F. Wilson Takes the Chair and Much Important Work Started

The Improvement Club met last Monday evening and was called to order by the new president, John F. Wilson.

The secretary read the minutes of the two previous meetings, which were approved as read.

Mr. Shelly reported for the banquet committee that all expenses had been provided for and there was $1.00 left to turn over to the treasurer.

Mr. Thomas reported for the committee that was appointed last year to confer with the railroad company in regard to a later freight train to the City during the time for the shipment of green fruit. The railroad officials listened to the request of the committee and had the afternoon freight held over until evening to accommodate the shippers of fresh fruit.

A motion was made that the Improvement Club express its appreciation of the accommodating manner of the railroad company towards the needs of Campbell business men, and the secretary was instructed to write a personal letter to E. Shillingsburg conveying the sentiments of the club to the company.

Mr. Thomas stated that himself with Dr. Cooper and S. G. Rodeck, were appointed a committee last spring to interview the Interurban Railway officials in regard to extending their line down Campbell avenue and up the Los Gatos road. The officials called on the committee here at Campbell and stated that it would not be practicable to run the line around the proposed route, but they were willing to run a spur to the high school and run the Hamilton avenue cars, and all others except the through cars, to that point. This would give us a half-hour service from the station to San Jose. They provided, however, that the residents of Campbell assist in paying the expenses of the construction of this spur, which would not be over $1000. The committee ascertained, through personal interviews with the property holders who might be benefitted by the road, that such a sum of money could not be raised. The committee was retained for further service.

Mr. Shelly moved that a committee be appointed to consider the matter of extending Campbell avenue through to Saratoga avenue. A committee of four was therefore appointed as follows: E. R. Kennedy, chairman, J. F. Duncan, J. L. Hagelin and G. L. Beaver.

The condition of the streets of Campbell came in for a liberal discussion and the secretary was instructed to write to Supervisor Roll asking that something be done to better the conditions.

Various suggestions were made regarding the improvement of the park but action was left to the committee in charge.

The meeting was adjourned to meet the 1st Monday in January, 1911.

The Vital Test.

"My eyes seem to be all wrong," explained Mr. Pinchpenny to the expensive oculist. "They're weak and tire easily. After a bit everything seems to swim before them. Bright lights make me dizzy. Can you assist me?" The expensive oculist nodded.

"Your case is a common one," he replied, "but I fear it will necessitate a treatment extending over several months. However, I can guarantee an absolute and enduring cure."

Biweekly for several months Mr. Pinchpenny was treated, and day by day his sight waxed stronger and more strong.

"Do you think I'm all right now?" he inquired at last.

"Mr. Pinchpenny," replied the oculist, beaming, "I think I can assure you that your eyes are now cured. But there is one more test it would be as well to apply." Here he held up a little sheet of paper. "See," he said suavely, "if you can read this little bill of mine at twelve inches without blinking."—London Answers.

Recipes For Invisible Ink.

The following are the ingredients of the most common invisible inks: Sulphate of copper and sal ammoniac, equal parts, dissolved in water; writes colorless, but turns yellow when heated. Onion juice, like the last. A weak infusion of galls; turns black when moistened with weak copperas water. A weak solution of sulphate of iron; turns blue when moistened with a weak solution of prussiate of potash and black with infusion of galls. The diluted solutions of nitrate of silver and terechloride of gold; darken when exposed to the sunlight. Aqua fortis, spirits of salt, oil of vitriol, common salt or saltpeter, dissolved in a large quantity of water; turns yellow or brown when heated. Solution of nitromuriate of cobalt; turns green when heated and disappears on cooling. Solution of acetate of cobalt to which a little niter has been added; becomes rose colored when heated and disappears on cooling.

Local and Personal

Mr. A. J. Farley and family moved last Wednesday, into the Fay house on South 1st street.

J. C. Ainsley has erected a red brick fireplace and chimney on the south side of his house.

F. Fraser, of Bloomington, Ill., is spending the month with Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Hayes.

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson of Santa Clara, have purchased the old Hall place on Johnson avenue.

Crisp & Weeks are now doing quite a business in the horse barbering line at their blacksmith shop.

The electricians have been at work this week installing electric lights throughout the high school building.

Nicholas Dunphy has returned home after a week at Richmond. Things did not look good to Nick in that neighborhood.

The Campbell grammar school will close next Wednesday, December 21st, and open again Tuesday, January 3rd, 1911.

Mrs. W. Rubell and Mrs. C. Gard have a very nice display of fancy articles for Christmas, in the window of the little office just next to Mrs. Rubell's.

The Methodist Sunday school held their annual stocking filling exercises last night in the Sunday school room. A short program was given by the little folks. Every one spent a jolly evening filling the stockings for less fortunate boys and girls in San Francisco.

The prospects seem to be good for getting the Western Pacific Railway into this section of the valley. The following men from Campbell were appointed to represent this vicinity at the big meeting at the San Jose Chamber of Commerce at 2 o'clock this afternoon: J. C. Ainsley, C. H. Whitman, J. D. Sawyer and A. C. Keesling.

W. L. Beafock was in town last Monday. He is obliged to take a few days' vacation because of an injured back as the result of a fall received while at work for the S. P. Co. at San Jose. It was a close call to a fractured rib. After Christmas the family expects to return from Palo Alto to their home on the ranch and Carl will take up the Normal course of study at San Jose.

Those who attended the Los Gatos-San Jose debate at Los Gatos last Saturday evening were Prof. J. F. Smith, I. W. Snow, Miss J. Moulton, Miss A. Sykes, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Wilson, Mr. Geo. E. Atkinson, Mrs. Putman, Misses Vaudine Putman, Muriel Palmer, Florence Brown, Margaret Hinchcliffe, Amy Farley, Winnie Fabinger, Helen Marshall, and Geo. Beaver, Ed. Hiatt, Ira Brown, John Wood, and Freeman Duncan.

Exchanges

Many places in this vicinity abound in petrified fish of gigantic proportions. Just a few days ago portions of the petrified remains of one of these prehistoric sea monsters were found on the McKinley place out on the Shannon Road, and are being exhibited at J. H. Pearce's store.—Los Gatos Mail.

This paper is quietly investigating political conditions in this county, and before long will publish a series of articles that will be of much interest to every taxpayer and home owner in the county. Some of the facts we are unearthing are rotten to the core and absolutely astounding.—Mountain View Register-Leader.

One day this week we talked with a fellow who came here four years ago from Iowa. He said: "I am going back." He told us he had lived on one farm 12 years there, and had raised a big crop every year. Not a short crop in 12 years. He had lived here four years and all four had been short, but this is not all of the story. When he came here four years ago he brought $1,000, all that he could show for his full crops for 12 years; he will take back with him $2,500. In other words, he has saved more out of four short crops here than he had out of 12 full crops there, and yet he said: "I am going back."—Mayfield News.

Justification.

The old dinky had driven his fare to the hotel and was now demanding a dollar for his service.

"What!" protested the passenger. "A dollar for that distance? Why, is isn't half a mile as the crow flies?"

"That's true, boss," returned Sambo, with an appealing smile. "But, ye see, sah, dat old crow he ain't got free wifes an' ten chilluns to support, not to mention de keep foh de-hoss."—Harper's Weekly.

Bright and Dark Days.

There are bright days and dark days, and we must take advantage of the former and be as little discouraged as possible by the latter. They are all in a lifetime.

Good Fellowship Rally at Methodist Church

The Epworth League and the Ladies' Aid of the Methodist Church joined in giving a good fellowship rally in the parlors of the church, last Friday evening. The affair was a jolly, informal reception to the strangers who have just come to town, and to those who have been in town a long time but are really strangers at the Methodist Church. About two hundred invitations having been sent out there was a large crowd present.

The Epworth League furnished the entertainment. The program was short but very interesting and amusing. A little sketch called, "A String of Pearls" was given. Those taking part in it were Miss Chrissie Woodward, Miss Ruth Hayes, Miss Phebe Farley, Miss Esther Smith, Mr. Avery Kennedy and Mr. Purmoit. Miss Florence Kennedy sang, "I've got a Pain in my Sawdust." Miss Hawley, being present, gave two recitations which were certainly appreciated, this being shown by the loud applause which followed. Miss Florence Brown recited an original poem calling attention to the candy booth, which was superintended by Mrs. Wilson's class of girls. The girls made about seventeen and one-half dollars. This amount goes to make up the money for expenses of the Xmas exercises and decorations. At the close of the program Mr. Wilson gave a little talk in which he welcomed all the newcomers. Later in the evening the Ladies' Aid served delicious refreshments of sandwiches, chocolate and cake.

Funeral of Mrs. James Kinnear Held Sunday

The funeral of Mrs. James Kinnear took place at her home on the Santa Clara-Los Gatos road, near Campbell, Sunday afternoon, December 11, at 2 o'clock, the Rev. Mr. Atkinson officiating. "Asleep in Jesus" and "Nearer, My God to Thee" were sung by Mrs. Beal and Mrs. Nelson. The body of the deceased woman was laid to rest in the Los Gatos Cemetery.

Mrs. Kinnear, formerly Margaret Rumingay, was born in Dundee, Scotland, May 24, 1845. She came to America in her maidenhood and was married the following year to James Kinnear in New York State. She came to Campbell a little more than a year ago.

Eight children were born to them, three of whom died in childhood. The five remaining are Thomas D. Kinnear of San Jose, Mrs. George M. Ellison, Mary Kinnear, Mrs. William Ohlen of Campbell and Robert B. Kinnear of Rowley, Mass. All were present at her bedside except the son in the east.

Though her recent illness was of short duration, she had been a sufferer for years. She was a faithful, loving wife, a helpful, devoted mother and had endeared herself to her neighbors during the short sojourn among them.—Mercury.

C. U. H. S. Notes

A few representatives from the high school journeyed to Los Gatos to hear that high school get beaten by San Jose High school by a 55-45 score. Considering that this was their first attempt, Los Gatos did very well.

The boys' basketball team traveled to Redwood City to play the first game of the A. A. L. schedule with Sequoia Union High on Friday last. The game was closely contested by the Redwood players who succeeded in carrying off the game on account of the large number of fouls made by Campbell. Forty-six fouls were made by both teams. The game was broken up so, that team work was impossible. The score was 24-22 in favor of Sequoia.

On Tuesday, the 13th., the San Jose High team went up against the boys in another closely contested game. There were hoodoo for Campbell; San Jose won with the score 22-20. The line-up for the two above games for Campbell:

Campbell Boy Has a Bright Future

Clifford Berry has given up his position in the telephone office and accepted a position as teacher in the school of wireless telegraphy, Garden City Bank building, San Jose. Clifford has been practicing at home for some time but since last June has been a student at the San Jose school and is rapidly acquiring considerable skill in the wireless method, both sending and receiving. His special duty as a teacher will be sending. He will also continue and complete his studies in electrical engineering.

Sea Superstitions.

One of the oldest sea superstitions has been connected with the flying of birds. If the birds flew high, that signified good weather. If they skimmed the water, that meant bad weather. There is gradually spreading among the seamen a superstition that if any animal is aboard the vessel bad weather may be deferred—even if the birds are flying close to the water—if the head of the animal is pointed aft and is held in that direction for some time.

Common sense is the knack of seeing things as they are and doing things as they ought to be done.—Stowe.

Events in Every Quarter of the Terrestrial Globe.

Winnipeg.—The Rat Portage Lumber Company's big mill at St. Boniface was destroyed by fire at a loss of $250,000.

Washington.—Withdrawals of lands in Utah approximating 336,314 acres as containing valuable coal deposits have been made by the President.

Winnipeg.—With the temperature 16 degrees below zero, 180 patients in Stroh's hospital, 200 feet distant from the fire here, were safely transferred to another institution.

Evansville, Ind.—Fire caused a damage of approximately $750,000 here, principally in the plant of the Fendrich Tobacco Company. A tobacco warehouse and several other buildings were destroyed.

Silver Lake, Minn.—Mrs. Frank Simon was shot and killed by a robber here after she and her husband had been held up in their home. Simon himself had jumped from a window and fled to the home of a neighbor for help.

Globe, Ariz.—Murder in the first degree and a sentence of life imprisonment was the verdict returned by the jury in the case of William Stewart, charged with the killing of Fred Kibbe. Kibbe was murdered on September 12th while on a hunting trip.

Albany, N. Y.—Carrying out his determination to sever all private business relations before January 1st, in order to give his whole time to the duties of his office, Governor-elect John Dix has resigned as officer and director of two local banks in which he has large interests.

New York.—A newly discovered gem of brilliant rose color was christened Morganite by the New York Academy of Science. It was named for J. Pierpont Morgan. The gem is a species of beryl, found, weighing from one carat to one hundred carats, on islands off the coast of Madagascar.

Washington.—The Republican Congressional Committee received $77,461 and disbursed $74,373, while the Democratic Congressional Committee received $27,790 and disbursed $27,771 during the recent campaign, according to reports filed with the clerk of the House of Representatives.

Leipsic.—The private fortune of Abdul Hamid, amounting to $4,500,000, has been handed over to the Government of Turkey by a decision of the Imperial Supreme Court in the suit brought by the Government against the Reichsbank, where the money had been deposited by the deposed Sultan.

Denver.—That the insured committed suicide may not be pleaded in defense of an action to recover on a life insurance policy in Colorado, in accordance with a decision of the State Supreme Court which upheld the constitutionality of the statute prohibiting insurance organizations from including "suicide" clauses in their policies.

New York.—Back from a perilous journey through the wildest jungles of south Africa, inhabited only by savages reputed to be cannibals, Major P. H. Fawcett reached New York City and will sail for England to submit a report of his expedition to the Royal Geographic Society. Major Fawcett is the first white man to explore to its source the River Heath.

Chicago.—Fifty thousand garment workers and their sympathizers marched in the largest demonstration made in Chicago since the teamsters and freight handlers' strike five years ago. Banners bearing in nine languages the slogans, "We want the union label" and "Give us a square deal," were permitted by the police after they had been translated by a censor.

Washington.—The possession of one-sixteenth negro blood brings a person under the classification of "negro," according to a decision of the District Court of Appeals in the case of Isabella I. Wall, eight years old, against the Board of Education. The girl was admitted to a white school more than a year ago, but was afterward excluded on the ground that she was a negro. The evidence showed that the girl had one-sixteenth negro blood in her veins.

FINAL FIGURES OF CENSUS
HUNDRED MILLION SOULS

Population of United States Proper is Nearly Ninety-Two Million.

Washington.—In the United States and all its possessions the Stars and Stripes protect 101,100,000 souls. This is the official estimate of the United States Bureau of the Census in connection with the population statistics for the country as enumerated in the thirteenth decennial census. It includes the Philippines, Samoa, Guam, Hawaii, Alaska and the Panama canal zone.

Within its borders on the North American continent, exclusive of Alaska, the United States has a population of 91,972,266 inhabitants. In the last ten years the States of the Union had an increase in population of 15,977,691, which amounts to 21 per cent over the 1900 figures.

Population of the several following States were issued among the last reported by the Census Bureau:

Arkansas, 1,574,449, an increase of 262,885, or 20 per cent over 1,311,564 in 1900. The increase from 1890 to 1900 was 183,385, or 16.3 per cent.

Kentucky, 2,289,905, an increase of 142,731, or 6.6 per cent over 2,147,174 in 1900. The increase from 1890 to 1900 was 288,539, or 15.5 per cent.

Mississippi, 1,797,114, an increase of 245,844, or 15.8 per cent over 1,551,270 in 1900. The increase from 1890 to 1900 was 261,670, or 20.3 per cent.

North Carolina, 2,206,287, an increase of 312,477, or 16.5 per cent over 1,893,810 in 1900. The increase from 1890 to 1900 was 275,863, or 17.1 per cent.

South Carolina, 1,515,400, an increase of 175,084, or 13.1 per cent over 1,340,316 in 1900. The increase from 1890 to 1900 was 189,167, or 16.4 per cent.

Texas, 3,896,542, an increase of 847,832, or 27.8 per cent over 3,048,710 in 1900. The increase from 1890 to 1900 was 813,187, or 3.64 per cent.

That California has made a greater increase in population since 1900 than Texas comes as a surprise. So much has been said about the immigration pouring into Texas that a general belief had been created that Texas would show an increase of over a million inhabitants. Her increase is 842,000, as against $92,000 for California. Instead of being second or third in population increase Texas is fourth, being just ahead of Illinois. New York is first, Pennsylvania second, California third, Texas fourth and Illinois fifth.

The following table shows the population of the counties in California in each of the two census years—1910 and 1900:

A Constitutional Cabinet.

Peking.—It seems safe to announce that the ancient absolute regime in China will exist only historically after the Chinese new year in January, 1911. It is stated that the throne has decided to accede to the resolution of the Imperial Senate praying for the immediate creation of a constitutional cabinet.

$100,000 for Memorial Hall.

Cleveland, Ohio.—The building committee of the Brotherhood of Railway Firemen and Enginemen has purchased for $100,000 the Memorial Hall building as the site of the order's new national building.

Salient Points of President's Message in Paragraphs

Washington.—The message of President Taft to Congress, summarized in paragraphs for busy readers, is as follows: He declares it time to stop legislating with reference to corporations and to witness the effect of a vigorous execution of the laws already on the statute books. The exact limitation upon business methods imposed by law will doubtless be made clearer by pending decisions of the Supreme Court.

Just at this time, the President says, he believes the activities of the Government, in addition to the enforcement of the laws, should be directed toward economy of administration, enlargement of opportunities for foreign trade, the building up of home industry and the strengthening of the confidence of capital in domestic investment.

Taft recommends strongly some form of ship subsidy to increase American shipping, especially to South America.

The tariff board is not ready to submit a report on any of the schedules of the Payne law and Taft says he will not recommend any tariff legislation until the new Congress convenes in December, 1911. He urges that the tariff board be made permanent and that all future revisions be made schedule by schedule. He vigorously opposes any general revision.

The Panama canal should be fortified. An appropriation of $19,000,000 is recommended for this purpose.

There must be no more "pork barrel" methods in river and harbor and public building bills. The latter should be based upon the report of a commission of experts. In the past Congress has appropriated too much for buildings not needed and not enough for buildings badly needed.

Recommendation for anti-injunction and Federal incorporation laws are renewed.

It is proposed that second-class mail rates shall be readjusted so as to charge magazines a much higher rate on their advertising sections.

Strong representations are made for the establishment of a new banking and currency system.

Two new battleships and several auxiliary vessels are urged for the navy.

The President recommends that coal, phosphate and oil lands and water power sites be disposed of in the future by leasing.

Estimates for Government expenditures during the next fiscal year have been cut to $630,494,013.12, which is $52,964,887.36 less than the actual appropriations for the current year. The estimated receipts for the next fiscal year are $680,000,000.

The President urges the extension of the civil service principle to the diplomatic and consular corps and the acquisition by the Government of residences and offices for its diplomatic officers.

Some criticisms of the Payne tariff act are just, but more are unfounded, says the President. Since enactment August 6, 1909, the existing tariff has proved the greatest income-producing measure in history. There should be more officers for the army. The engineer corps should be increased by 60. The fortifications at Corregidor island, Manila bay, and at Pearl harbor, Hawaii, should be carried to early completion. Regarding the Panama canal the President says: The progress of the work is most satisfactory. It will be completed well within the time set, January 1, 1915, and within the estimated cost of $375,000,000. The slides in Culebra cut off no great reason for delay.

The Immigration Officers are Now Onto the System

San Francisco.—Encouraged by the successful capture of fifteen Chinese last Sunday night, the immigration department detailed its entire force of inspectors aboard the Japanese liner Chiyo Maru, when she arrived, and at nightfall, after a most thorough search four Chinese coolies and a 16-year-old slave girl were found concealed in various nooks and crannies aboard the ship. The girl, half starved and nearly frozen, was found in a linen closet, where she had been secreted during the entire voyage.

Failure to fortify the canal would leave the United States powerless to enforce the universal and equal use of the waterway against a desperate and irresponsible enemy and would defeat the military effectiveness of the American navy. The tolls should not exceed $1 per net ton. The President should be authorized to adjust the rates as necessity arises. The Government should include in its management of the canal the furnishing not only to the navy, but to the public as well, dry docks and repair facilities, and the sale of coal, oil and other ship supplies.

Interstate railroads should be prevented from owning or controlling ships trading through the canal. Regarding the courts the President declares the crying needs of the United States is cheapening the cost of litigation by simplifying judicial procedure and expediting final judgment. The Supreme Court should be relieved from unnecessary appeals. The salaries of the Federal Judges should be increased. Postal savings banks will be established in a number of cities January 1st. A parcels post on rural delivery routes is recommended. Postmaster-General Hitchcock is given high praise for putting the Postoffice Department on a self-sustaining basis. The extension of the civil service to include all classes of postmasters and thus taking these officials entirely out of politics is urged.

The President recommends Congress to give some fitting recognition of the Polar discoveries of Commander Robert E. Peary. The Secretary of the Navy suggests that Peary be made a Rear-Admiral and placed on the retired list. The stupendous value of the agricultural products amounting to $8,926,000,000 this year, indicates a good prospect for business throughout the country.

The present census promises to be the best ever taken, but it is not perfect. The census takers are to be vigorously prosecuted. A bureau of health should be established. The Southern Pacific Railroad should be reimbursed for its expenditures in fighting the floods in the Imperial valley of California several years ago.

Heavier fines should be imposed against steamship companies for violation of the immigration laws. The facilities at Ellis island, New York, should not be increased so as to offer an inducement to steamship companies to concentrate their immigrant business at one port. Immigrants are needed in the rural districts.

Some provision should be made for retiring superannuated Government clerks.

The only amendments suggested in the interstate commerce law are an appropriation to enable the Interstate Commerce Commission to advance the valuation of railroads and fixing the responsibilities of public carriers in the issuance of bills of lading.

Boyce and his crew found the stowaways. They were taken to the city prison and held in detainee and afterward taken to Angel Island.

The capture of the five stowaways is only further evidence that a gigantic smuggling ring has been operating between the Orient and this port. The plans of local agents of the ring having gone amiss through Sunday night's occurrences no one was on hand to take the five stowaways from the Chiyo Maru. The careful inspection is an example of the sort of examination that will be made of all Oriental steamers hereafter.

WOMAN ON BEACH SEIZED
BY A HUGE SEA MONSTER

Fishermen Saves Woman's Life by Cutting Off Tentacles of Octopus.

Los Angeles.—Attacked by a huge octopus while angling for surf fish at Long Beach, Mrs. Jessie McDonald could not be extricated from the grasp of the sea monster until fishermen rushed to her rescue and cut away the tentacles that encircled her.

Mrs. McDonald suffered severely from shock and fright, but otherwise escaped severe injury. She did not observe the danger from the octopus until it had seized her by the ankle. She screamed and fainted, whereupon the octopus began to encircle her body. Other anglers attempted to drag the octopus away, but, finding this impossible, cut away its tentacles.

Mrs. McDonald was taken to the residence of friends where she is visiting. Her home is in Tucson, Ariz.

Greenbacks as Fodder.

Spartanburg, S. C.—While going a milking, Mrs. Luther Calvert, who lives at Clinton, dropped a pocketbook containing five $20 bills, a $10, a $5 and three $1 bills and a silver quarter. The money was missed an hour later and thorough search revealed the quarter, which showed signs of having been chewed on. A young heifer in the yard had a guilty look and a veterinary surgeon was summoned. The roll was extracted from the stomach of the heifer in a badly mutilated condition. The bills were sent to Washington to be redeemed.

Coroners Sit on Lively Corpse.

Newark, N. J.—A long time after physicians had pronounced him dead, and while two coroners were disputing as to which should sit on his supposed demise, a Burlington farmer named Buzby suddenly broke up the argument by throwing off the covering of his face and saying: "Why, Bill, where am I? What's the matter?" Then he relapsed. But the surprised physicians were able to revive him and he is expected to recover.

Crane Carries Off Man.

Plattville, Colo.—Caught by the mail crane of a swiftly moving express train, F. C. Tiffany, a Union Pacific brakeman, was carried several hundred yards like a fish on a hook and then hurled a hundred feet through the air. He escaped with severe cuts and bruises. Tiffany was climbing down the ladder of a freight car in front of the Plattville station when "hooked" by the passing express train.

New York Completes Quota.

Washington.—On the eve of the annual meeting of the American Red Cross here, President Taft, who is president, received word that New York City has completed its subscription of $500,000, apportioned to it on the basis of the 10 cents per capita population for the $2,000,000 endowment fund of the society. New York is the first to complete its quota.

Biscuit Rang Up Eight Dollars.

Santa Barbara.—Fred Williams, a cook at a local restaurant, is out of pocket $8 as the result of what he calls petrified luck. While left in charge of the eating house a biscuit (the kind that mother doesn't make) fell from the shelf and hit the cash register, ringing up the equivalent of many good meals. He tried to explain to the proprietor, but in vain.

Surgeons to Fight Cholera.

Stockholm.—The authorities are hurrying surgeons to Manchuria from Siberia to fight the cholera. The Chinese have been warned that restrictions will be placed on the sending of wheat and beans to the central market. It is feared the trade of the whole country will be suspended for weeks and perhaps months.

New Court on Old Site.

Placerville.—The El Dorado Court House will be erected on the site of the old one, which was burned several months ago. Such was the decision reached by the County Supervisors after a discussion of sites offered for the new building.

Aged Woman Burned.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—Mrs. L. H. Jenkins, a writer, 72 years old, was burned to death, and her daughter, Miss Eva Jenkins, aged 40, narrowly escaped the same fate when fire partly destroyed the boarding house in which they lived.

Corporation Denies Report.

New York.—Albert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, denies reports from Pittsburgh and other industrial centers that curtailment of operations and the discharge of thousands of employees are contemplated.

SUMMARY OF PAST WEEK'S COAST NEWSInteresting Events Among Our Neighbors in the Far
West Reviewed.What Has Transpired on the Border of the Broad Pacific From Alaska to Mexico.

Sterling City.—The Diamond Match Company has cut about 39,000,000 feet of lumber this season.

Oxnard.—Clayton Riley, a former railroad employe, was instantly killed when attempting to board a moving freight train.

Los Angeles.—The special Grand Jury entered the sixth week of its investigation of the Times explosion inquiry, an no indictments are yet in sight.

Oakland.—Mike Miller, who was convicted of a criminal assault upon Mrs. Rozee Mladinich, was sentenced to 13 years' imprisonment in San Quentin, Judge Brown pronouncing judgment.

Seattle.—Customs officers searching the Great Northern steamship Minnesota found 20 five-ounce tins of smoking opium wrapped in a gunny sack and hidden under the crank shaft of the ship.

Pasadena.—The leading society girls of this city decline to mingle with Japanese naval men of high rank, even to meeting them on the ballroom floor. As a result Japanese-American relations in southern California are severely strained.

San Francisco.—Only California made goods will be displayed in the windows of San Francisco merchants for one week in February, to be known as "California Week," if present plans of the Home Industry League of California be fulfilled.

Los Angeles.—Mrs. Ella Louise Jennings, wife of Dr. James H. Jennings of Salt Lake City, cut her throat in an apartment house where she and her husband had been staying. She died later. They came here a year ago for Mrs. Jennings' health.

Sacramento.—A reunion of unusual happiness occurred at the local depot when Mrs. Rosina Corbett of San Francisco, who had come to Sacramento for the purpose of identifying a suicide as her 17-year-old son, was greeted by the youth upon her arrival.

Porterville.—The Board of Education of the Grammar School district has instructed its attorney to issue a call for an election to be held December 30 to decide upon an issue of $45,000 in bonds for the immediate construction of a grammar school building of eight rooms.

Vallejo.—For killing a tame pheasant, Albert Ward, a letter carrier here, faces four charges. First, for discharging firearms within the city limits; second, for killing a bird protected by law; third, for destroying private property, and fourth, for neglect of his duties. He has been arrested for killing the bird.

San Francisco.—Eleven Hindus out of thirteen arriving on the Manchuria have been ordered deported, examination at Angel Island by Dr. M. W. Glover showing them to be afflicted with hookworm. Twelve men have been added to the force at the island, two interpreters, three stenographers, two firemen and five laborers.

Turlock.—The Turlock irrigation district voted by a large majority for the issue of $1,260,000 in bonds for the building of a great storage reservoir and the enlargement of the irrigation canal which serves the section. The vote was 1220 for and 457 against. This action is of great importance to the district as it assures a constant water supply no matter how dry the season may be.

Sacramento.—A resolution directing the Southern Pacific Company to raise the north levee of the city in pursuance of an old grant has been passed by the city trustees. The railroad company is directed to raise the levee five feet above the high water plane of the American river and make the crown of the levee 30 feet in width. This is the levee work Sacramento city would have bonded itself to do at a cost of $50,000 had not the old grant been unearthed.

Chico.—The Supervisors of Butte and Glenn counties and representatives of the firm of Cotton Brothers, contractors, met at the Gianella bridge and went through the form of turning over the bridge to the counties. There were speeches and a general celebration. The bridge has been in course of construction for two years, having been damaged by the flood of winter before last. After the ceremonies the contractors entertained the county officials at luncheon.

Blood Humors

Commonly cause pimples, boils, hives, eczema, or salt rheum, or some other form of eruption, but sometimes they exist in the system, indicated by feelings of weakness, languor, loss of appetite, or general debility, without causing any breaking out.

FLOATING ISLAND FOUND

Queer Discovery Made by the Crew of the Bark Atlas in the Pacific Ocean.

The crew of the bark Atlas, which arrived in Seattle recently after rounding the Horn from Philadelphia, reports a queer discovery for one day of the 138 of her voyage. She had been out many days without seeing anything—only three ships were seen on the entire trip—when one morning in the Pacific the lookout reported that he had sighted land off the port bow where no land was supposed to be. Nor could any be found on the charts.

It seemed low in the water, but too much like the real thing to be a mirage, so the captain ran toward it. It proved to be land, right enough; an island covered with trees and thick low underbrush. Birds and a few monkeys were seen upon it, but no other signs of life. These precluded the possibility of the island being of volcanic origin, and leads the captain to claim it as a floating island. He believes that it was washed out to sea from delta of the Rio de la Plata or the Negro, and that the undergrowth was so thick that its roots held the whole together.

As he saw two trees tumble into the water from the island's edge before he sailed away his theory appears to be somewhat substantiated.

WHERE WOMEN ARE BANNED

No Female of Any Sort Has Been Allowed on Mount Athos for Many Centuries.

For centuries past, Duke Max zu Sachsen informs us, women have not been allowed on the Turkish peninsula. Even female animals are prohibited. Condensed milk is imported from Switzerland, so that the eyes of the inhabitants may not be offended by the sight of a cow.

The peninsula is Mount Athos, and its inhabitants are the members of 20 monasteries, which have existed there since the days when Christian emperors held rule at Constantinople and gave laws to all Europe. For 1,400 or 1,500 years, let us say, no woman has trodden the ground of Mount Athos.

A vast quantity of art treasures and precious manuscripts has been stored in the monasteries, but for the most part their contents and even their character remained entirely unknown. —Tit-Bits.

Prehistoric Hairpins.

Eye probably caught up her tresses when engaged in housekeeping with long thorns, easily obtainable from the bushes and trees in her front yard. Thornlike pines carved from boxwood, ivory and horn have been found in excavations dating back to the time of the Caesars; and also queer, clumsy combs made of the same materials. In the days of the Caesars. Roman maids wore their hair in exceedingly simple fashion, but styles for matrons exceeded in ornateness anything seen in our day. The Roman lady about the house wore her hair caught up under a reticulum or heavy net of colored cords; but for great occasions her locks were dressed by a cinerarius, or handler of the curling irons, and not only were bangs, braids and rats in high favor, but false hair was much used, captive German maids, being denuded of their flaxen braids for the enhancement of Roman charms.

Auctioneer's Hourglass.

An auctioneer of this city collects all sorts of objects pertaining to his ancient calling. He has, among other things, an interesting set of auctioneer's hour glasses.

The Auctioneer of a century or so ago ended a sale not by saying, "Going—going—gone!" and rapping the counter with his hammer, but it was his better method to turn up a free running glass toward the end of the bidding and to end the sale irrevocably when the sands ran out. This saved confusion and dispute.

The auctioneer's glasses in the Philadelphia collection are picturesque. One is of tortoise shell and mother of pearl. Another is of amber and gild. A third is of teak and ivory.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Tale of a Bird.

A little four-year-old boy living in a country town disturbed and took some eggs from under a sitting hen belonging to a neighbor. The neighbor complained to the boy's mother, who later called her boy to her and began to reprove him, when he broke in with the question: "Who told you?" The mother said: "A little bird told me. Now, tell me, how many eggs did you take?"

The little boy, stammering, said: "Well! Well! Why didn't the bird tell you the whole of it?"

Scored Heavily.

The Burglar—How much is five rolls of movin' picture films, a snare drum and a cornet worth you, Snooks? The Fence—Where did you lift that stuff, Bill?

The Burglar (smilingly)—I broke into vaudeville last night!

Same Sort of Language.

"I'm afraid we'll have to cut that man's acquaintance," said the woman of strictly correct ideas. "Yes," replied Miss Cayenne. "He uses the same sort of language that we pay two or three dollars a seat to hear at a theatre."

Your Chances For Health

are a thousand times better if you will only take Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It is an absolutely pure medicine and a sure health maker, because it tones and strengthens the entire digestive system and thus drives out disease. For over 57 years it has successfully demonstrated its great merit in cases of Poor Appetite, Sour Stomach, Heartburn, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Colds, Grippe, Malaria, Fever and Ague. Try it.

CONCENTRATION.

A Little Discipline for the Writer is, of Course, a Good Thing.

Concentration is the liking other people should have for the noise you are making. If they find it difficult to write while you are making jokes and knocking over tables and things, it is because they have no concentration, and they should be upbraided and admonished, and by cries of "Shame!" helped to acquire a virtue you are shocked to find them lacking in. If they mildly ask you to talk a little less loudly, you say, in surprised tones: "Do you mean to say that you hear us? You should be unconscious of our presence!" and the noises are slightly increased out of a friendly desire to help them to learn to do what at any moment they may find it extremely useful to be capable of. Who knows, some time it may be imperative that they write a masterpiece while waiting at a railway station! And without this former experience they would find themselves utterly distracted. This is just the discipline they need, and you are only too glad to be of service. A little music will be added, though you do not feel in the mood for playing, when they have learned to write through talking and are equal to a slightly more difficult task in concentration. At this point the writer is very apt to become violent, and may even attempt to leave the room; but remind him that some of the greatest composers and authors have worked with their babies crawling over the desk and their wives cutting bread and butter at their elbows. If this does not bring him slinking back, it is regrettable; but the conclusion is pretty obvious that he is not a writer of the first water and would probably have done much better at something else.

England and Scotland are demanding California apples, according to the local exchange, because the crops at home this year have been quite short.

Mothers will find Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup the best remedy to use for their children during the teething period.

The wineries of the State are generally closed down, the crop of wine grapes being worked up. The wine crop is reported as being 25 per cent short, owing largely to a shortage in the second crop of muscats.

CARAMELS VS. RED CROSS SEALS.

A little girl went into a Chicago drug store during the Christmas season last year to buy some candy. "I want 30 cents' worth of caramels," she said.

Then her attention was attracted by the sheet of Christmas Seals lying on the counter. "Oh, you have some of those little Christmas Seals that the teacher told us about."

She hesitated, as the clerk started.

to get the candy; then shifted her position from one foot to the other, and chewed the corner of her handkerchief for a minute. At last, with a thoughtful expression on her face, she said:

"I—I'll—Give me ten of them. I will take twenty cents' worth of caramels."

An evaporating plant, to handle unmarketable apples, has been erected at Red Bluff. It has been fitted up with every appliance for handling fruit and will have a working capacity of four tons daily.

Money and Earning.

Faiths of this nature, though too frequent in the country, are very fatal to the ordinary people, who are so used to be dazzled with riches that they pay as much deference to the understanding of a man of estate as of a man of learning; and are very hardly brought to regard any truth, how important soever it may be, that is preached to them, when they know there are several men of five hundred a year who do not believe it.—Joseph Addison.

Practical Methods of Approach Suggested for Teaching Agriculture in Schools

[Editor's Note.—The following is taken from Bulletin No. 2, "Industrial and Agricultural Education," by Edward Hyatt, Sacramento, Dec. 15, 1910. The remainder of the bulletin will be published next week.]

Nearly every one believes that the schools must become more closely allied to the industries by which the people live. Particularly, California schools must be open to the genius of Agriculture. Now, there is danger, when the professional educators take hold of a live thing like this, that they will squeeze all the real life and interest out of it in order to teach it in a conventional way. When it becomes embalmed in regular text-books, perfunctory recitations and periodical examinations, it fails of its real mission. It does not get there. If it would truly succeed, ways must be found to keep it alive, to keep it in touch with country life, to invest it with the realities of extracting a living from the soil.

It is easy to agree that the schools shall take in agriculture. But it is difficult to find out just how this may be done. No one knows as yet. There must be myriad experiments and a thousand grotesque failures before we succeed. The casual observer does not dream of the difficulties and stumbling blocks in the way. It is the work of years.

It is highly desirable to build up a spirit of sympathy for agriculture in the minds of all the people, and to bring them into actual contact with the agricultural life. For many generations everything in education has tended away from the farm. The district school never does one thing in all its course to prepare a boy or a girl for living on his father's farm. It always heads him rather toward clerkly or professional pursuits in the cities.

The object of this bulletin is to emphasize the fact that we must find something different from the traditional text-book method of approach if we would really get agriculture into the public schools; and to call attention to two or three ways of approach that are different, viz:

Harvesting the Fruit Crop.

School Gardening.

Organizing Boys' and Girls' Agricultural Clubs.

I venture to distinctly suggest that it is in some such ways as these that the schools of California will best undertake the new subject of Agriculture—by finding ways to actually co-operate personally with the nearest agricultural industry, by entering into its spirit and its labors.

EDWARD HYATT,

Superintendent Public Instruction.

1. HARVESTING THE FRUIT CROPS

A movement has started in the prune orchards of the Santa Clara Valley that bears so directly upon these educational questions that it is here illustrated and sent out for the consideration of the horticultural people and the school people of other parts of the State. The idea is to enlist the interest and the labor of the children and the people of the villages and the towns in the harvesting of our perishable fruit crops, paying them full market wages for their work, furnishing them safe and attractive camping places, facilitating their coming and going, and giving them a season of healthful, active, outdoor life.

This is a practical course of study in California agriculture that may well command the co-operation of the educational forces of the State. The school term may very well begin and close so that the children and their parents can take part in the chief industry of the neighborhood. The curse of the fruit grower is the lack of labor in the gathering of his crop. This it is that brings indigestible foreigners upon us, Japanese, Hindoos, Chinese. This it is that is forcing much of our richest lands into the hands of aliens. The safety of our nation lies in having our land owned by our own people who earn their living from the soil. It is a splendid thing to see the schools closed and the villages depopulated during the harvest season; to see the mothers and the children living outdoors for a time and helping to pick the hops, gather the grapes, dry the peaches, take care of the prunes, apricots, tomatoes, and all that. It makes stronger, happier, wholesomer people. Everybody may well join in it. There is no loss of dignity in it. It advances the interests of California's great industry, the industry by which we must live for centuries into the future, with the world for a rival. It is truly educational, in the best and highest sense.

Homer A. Craig, a fruit grower at Campbell and president of the Farmers' Union, is the leader in this idea. For four years he has been giving it practical trial in his orchards. He finds that by offering employment to whole families and providing them with decent opportunities to live during the fruit season, he can avoid the use of Asiatic labor. The children old enough to work take part in the industry, and the little ones play about under the watchful eyes of the mothers. All gain health and vigor, cheeks fill out, faces grow tanned and ruddy, and habits of industry, thrift, and independence are formed. Really, this is a patriotic enterprise for all concerned. The alien laborers that we draw in for this temporary purpose do not leave the country when the work is done. They must be reckoned with and supported by the nation for all time to come even when the work is needed by our own people.

Warren Shelly does not believe in "hiding his light under a bushel." He now has an incandescent light on a pole over the front fence so we residents of Harrison avenue can more readily find our way home on a dark night. We suggest that others who live within the circuit follow his example. It was through the efforts of Mr. Shelly that we have the lights on the business street.

Special Ocean Mail Service

The Western Union Telegraph Company announced today another innovation in telegraph service called the "Special Ocean Mail Service," designed to save time in foreign correspondence. A letter from San Francisco to London required as much time crossing the continent as it does crossing the ocean. A New York merchant writing to Yokohama must post his letter practically a week before the mail steamer sails from San Francisco or Vancouver.

The Western Union has arranged for the use of its night letter and other telegraphic service in connection with outgoing ocean mails so that this week of transcontinental time may be saved. Its New York office will receive telegrams from any part of the country destined to European addresses and will forward them in a sealed specially addressed envelope by the first outgoing Atlantic steamship mail. The same plan will be followed in San Francisco, Seattle and Vancouver for trans-Pacific Mails.

This will enable correspondence to be dispatched from any part of the United States for an ocean mail within a few hours of sailing time. The only charge in addition to the usual telegraph tolls to the ocean mail port will be five cents for postage. Telegrams should bear the full mail address of the marked "Care Ocean Mail New York" or San Francisco, Seattle or Vancouver as the case may be. No charge will be made for the address.

The Youth's Companion Calendar for 1911

The publishers of the Youth's Companion will, as always at this season, present to every subscriber whose subscription ($1.75) is paid for 1911 a beautiful calendar for the New Year. The picture panel reproduces a water-color painting of an old-time garden in a flood of summer sunshine, with a background of Lombardy poplars through which one catches a glimpse of distant hills. The picture being in 12 colors the tones of the original are faithfully produced.
